Subject: Letter of Endorsement for Ms. Michele R. Weslander Quaid

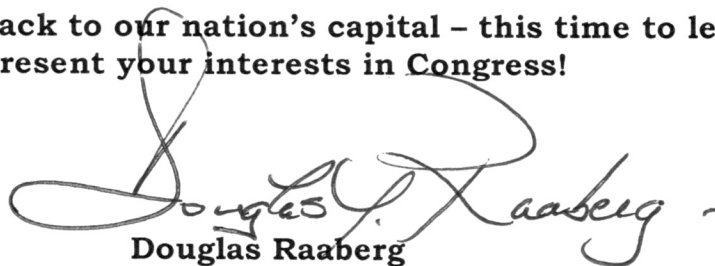

Michele Weslander Quaid is a national security thought leader and a person of character whom you trust implicitly. From the moment we met in 2003 during our Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff senior leader course, CAPSTONE, I knew she was destined to command the respect of every general officer and admiral in our class. She earned our respect then and that continues to this day.

Take a close look at the depth and breadth of her commanding experience in government service and executive leadership in industry. Listen to what she has to say. You'll instantly be attracted to one of her key attributes—a deep patriotism for America!

Today, we need leaders like Michele in Congress to ensure America remains a world leader – the land of the free and home of the brave. She understands the importance of a dominant U.S. military to preserve America's national security and she has a deep appreciation for and a commitment to those who serve in uniform. Michele will support and defend our military and first responders and has the record to prove it.

I have worked with Michele at the front lines of our government in her role as a respected intelligence leader. She has a profound respect for and rich understanding of our national interests at home and abroad. I'm confident she will bring the same ethos of diligence, duty, and care to her constituents as a member of Congress.

Send Michele back to our nation's capital – this time to lead positive change and represent your interests in Congress!
