

Michele R. Weslander Quaid
Letter of Endorsement
March 5, 2022

I have known Michele for almost twenty years. We were classmates in the Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff CAPSTONE Program in 2003. Michele is a kind, passionate, and driven woman who has achieved amazing results starting at a young age. She has used her intelligence, education, history of success and hard work to be a servant leader in the public and private sector throughout her career.

Since the day we met, I have recognized that Michele is a committed American patriot. She is a strong supporter of those in the military and civilian government who have served our country defending our freedom and the U.S. Constitution. Often, on patriotic holidays, such as Independence Day and Veterans Day, Michele reaches out to her large following of veterans and fellow public servants with kind messages of thankfulness for their service.

The breadth of Michele's intellect and expertise is truly impressive. As a technologist, she can hold her own with the sharpest minds in the country on technical topics. As a coach and educator, she engages with a thoughtful and approachable demeanor that makes everyone comfortable. As a friend, she is true and steadfast in appreciating her relationships. As a spouse and mother, she is focused on the well-being of her family. As an individual, she is an inspiring role model having overcome many challenges in her life and career.

Throughout Michele's lifetime of service to our country, many have suggested that she run for elected office stating that we need someone of her caliber, character, and integrity. I am happy to hear she has heard the call to serve in the U.S. Congress. She has what it takes to succeed. I can't think of a more qualified, thoughtful, and caring representative for her district than Michele. Please get to know her, elect her, and watch as she uses her talent and experience to make our country stronger.

Sincerely,

Jeffrey L. Fowler
Vice Admiral, U.S. Navy, retired